17 August 57

Mr. Allen W. Dulles, Director
Central Intelligence Agency
2430 "E" Street, N.W.
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I would like to extend a cordial invitation to you and members of your staff to attend the 11 Annual Research and Development Command Science Symposium which will be held on 1-2 October in Washington, D. C., at the Departmental Auditorium at 12th Street and Constitution Avenue.

These symposia afford an opportunity for our scientists and engineers to present papers to a distinguished and critical audience on promising work under way in the Command.

The chairman this year will be Mr. George W. Johnson, Chief Scientist of the U. S. Air Force. Mr. Hugh Dryden has accepted our invitation to deliver the keynote address. Included in the audience will be members of the research and development staffs of the Department of Defense, the Air Force, and other government agencies, together with a broadly representative group from ARDC.

The agenda will include papers classified as Restricted Data. The physical and security arrangements are detailed in the inclosed data sheet together with titles from which our agenda, consisting of 11 papers, will be selected.

We are hopeful that the schedule will permit your presence in Washington in October.

Sincerely,

151

S. E. Anderson

Assistant General, ARDC
